

Nice people, good food, great conversation!

Rory Cooney, our Director of Liturgy and Music, will guide us through this wonderful work by James Alison through video presentation and discussion.

When a friend told me
“This is Christianity as I’ve never heard it before”,
I felt challenged to make the material
more widely available.
So, I hope you will find that this course offers a fresh take on how we read the Scriptures, how we are reached by Jesus’ self-giving up to death, and how this enables us to reimagine our lives as Church.
Gradually and gently, the course allows the good news of a God in whom there is no violence at all to reveal itself afresh.

James Alison

Jesus the Forgiving Victim restores to the Christian life the wonder and transformative power of discovering that you are loved far more than you know.

Exploring this work will allow you to find yourself summoned into being on the inside of something new; on a journey that will open your heart and mind to discovering new things about yourself and our faith.

We invite you to spend Thursday evenings with your fellow parishioners to share in a soup supper and prayer along with discussion and reflection. Each evening a different essay from this work will be presented via DVD. While it is not necessary to read anything prior to attending, books are available as a companion.

Soup Supper and Discussion – All are Welcome!

Thursday evenings, February 16 through March 23

6:30-8:00 p.m. – Hospitality Room (lower level of Church building)

There is no cost to participate; however, we do ask that you register so that we can communicate on potential weather cancellations and be prepared with enough food.

We hope that Jesus the Forgiving Victim will be a meaningful part of your journey toward a deeper faith and fuller life in Christ.
